

Good Faith Estimate Client Rights Notice

Good Faith Estimate Client Rights:

You have the right to receive a “Good Faith Estimate” explaining how much your medical care will cost. Under the law, health care providers are required to provide Good-Faith-Estimates to self-pay clients or clients paying with out-of-network insurance plans.

You have the right to receive a Good Faith Estimate for the total expected cost of any non-emergency items or services. This includes related costs like individual counseling, couples and family counseling, assessment appointments, group therapy; not all services listed may apply.

Make sure your health care provider gives you a Good Faith Estimate in writing at least 1 business day before your medical service or item.

You can also ask your health care provider, and any other provider you choose, for a Good Faith Estimate before you schedule an item or service.

If you receive a bill that is at least $400 more than your Good Faith Estimate, you can dispute the bill. Make sure to save a copy or picture of your Good Faith Estimate.
